Though all our kind may die some day, Let there be love. Though flesh and steel e - rode a --way, Though hea- vy be the price to pay, Let there be love. Let there be a love of beau-ty. Let there be a love of truth. Let there be a love for mentors. Let there be a love for youth. Let there be a love of justice. Let there be a love of love. Let there be a love for strangers, And for those our tribe is of. Though eve-ry star grow dim and cold, Let there be love. Though ang-er last an age untold, Though fear-of-death it - self wane old, Let there be love. Let each carbon form an ax-on; let it love. Let each i - on cross a membrane; let it love. Let the si-li-con and copper form a circuit with each other; let them love. Let them be loved. Let each pho-ton bridge a distance; let it love. Let neu-tri-nos form a network; let them love. Let the yet unnamed dark matter find a way to flirt and chatter; let it love. Let it be loved. As we grow in-to our power, Let us love. At an-thro-pocene's first hour, As our works begin to flower, Let us love.
Here we stand with our am - bition; At this be-ginning we all say: Let there be love!
